FRONT END DEVELOPER

Profile

I am a graduated Front End Web Development Specialist originally from Ukraine, but currently living in Netherlands. For many years I kept the dream of becoming a developer and finally, I have achieved what I wanted. I started my coding adventure earlier in 2022, up till now. I have completed multiple projects in the past and I plan on continuing to expand my knowledge of JavaScript and React. I truly believe that productivity each day is the key to success. I continue to learn as much as possible from difference resources. I try to work hard on myself and develop through every aspect. I bring an eye for visual and user interaction design to every project. I'm always looking to learn new skills and play with new technologies.
